The strong arm of the Lord is with You

Em A D

The almighty power of the Lord is Yours

May you arise, step out and walk, you who are the Remnants of God

The field you may not know, and don't know where to go

You are still the children of God

Our God of the Covenant will send His holy angels, ahead of You

May you arise, run in full stride, you who are the Remnants of God

Though you do not possess power or greatness

You are still the children of God

Our God of the covenant has everything prepared for you, waiting in the field

May you arise, conquer the world, you who are the Remnants of God

All things of yesterday, everything of yours today

Build them up as your pedestal

Our God of the covenant will fully accomplish, what He has promised You
